

Using Orders schema imported in the last laboratory. Write SQL statements corresponding for the following queries:

1. Return order number for those orders which contain at least one product from 1941 and one from 1969.
2. Return product names of those products ordered by customers from Melbourne.
3. Return the name of those customers which had at least one payment and all its payments were between 5000 and 30000.